Really Now, Do You Want Gears or Good Service?

If you prefer a car with a gear transmission you must sacrifice much in the every-day service which you will get. Complicated gears must necessarily weaken a car—the gearless driven Cartercar unquestionably proves that they are a great handicap.

The Cartercar has no gears—no clutch—and no universal joints. Instead it has a simple Friction Transmission.

This is the simple Cartercar Transmission

Your Cartercar will easily climb a 50 per cent hill—no gear car can possibly do this. Needless to say, a Cartercar will go through mud and sand where the gear car is helpless.

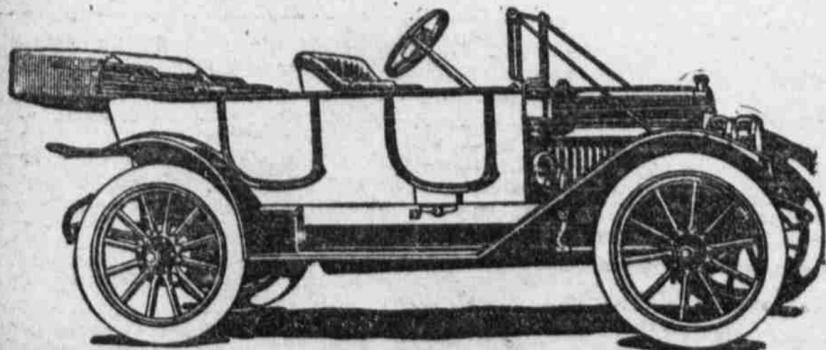

Then also, you have an unlimited number of speeds. The gear car has only four—and one of them is the reverse. The advantages of this feature are obvious.

These speeds are controlled with one lever. The Cartercar can be operated safely by ladies, old people—in fact everyone.

The Friction drive prevents jerks and jars, too. This means the utmost comfort to passengers—and also reduced tire and repair bills about one-half.

In fact, the Cartercar will travel roads where the gear car cannot—it can be driven by persons who could safely operate a gear car—and is far more reliable, because of its great simplicity.

It's just a plain issue—do you want Gears or Service? If you want the service then you must consider the Cartercar. Write for catalog today—it will tell you more facts.
